Scouts to Petition Ave To Save Perrine Bridge

Troop 4 Obtains 500 Signatures; Hope for 5,000

Boy Scouts of Troop 4, sponsored by Fair Street Reformed Church, have more than 500 signatures on petitions to preserve and make a state historical shrine of the Perrine bridge, Rifton—one of the nation's few remaining "old covered bridges."

The original goal was 2,000 signatures but Peter Dingley, troop scribe, said today the troop had decided that "if we can get 2,000, we can get 5,000." They're going for 5,000.

At Theatre Tonight
Members of the troop will be at the Community Theatre to-night beginning at 6:30 p. m. with petitions. Persons who desire to sign may do so in the lobby of the theatre.

Dingley said this morning that the troop had received the petitions Monday and started them circulating on Tuesday, although the campaign didn't really get under way until Wednesday. There are eight petitions in circulation.

Dingley said the troop, which consists of 11 members at the present time, would seek an audience with Gov. Harriman in Albany when the petitions have been completed. He hopes that this can be done some time between Christmas and January 1.

Dingley told The Freeman the troop was seeking additional members and would welcome anyone interested.

The next meeting of the troop will be held in the parish hall of the church at 7 p. m. Tuesday.

Wilson Plans Bill
Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson said in September that a bill would be introduced at the next session of the State Legislature to make the bridge a state historic site.

The bill would also include an appropriation for the restoration of the bridge by the state.

At present there are 21 historic buildings, forts, farms, battlefields and monuments which have been declared historic sites and places by the Legislature under the jurisdiction of the State Education Department and maintained by them.

The Senate House in this city is among those.

Located over the Wallkill River between the Towns of Rosendale and Esopus, the bridge has not been used for many years and has fallen into bad repair.

Rescue Hooks Meeting

The regular meeting of Rescue Hook and Ladder Co. No. 2 will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. in the firehouse. Election of officers will be held and refreshments served.

75 PC of U.S. Portion Of Seaway Job Is Done

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 114-mile U. S. portion of the St. Lawrence Seaway is now more than 75 per cent complete.

The mammoth project—one of the greatest ever attempted on continental North America—is a joint venture of the United States and Canada.

Opening of the 27-foot-deep waterway, to permit deep-draft shipping between the Atlantic and the Great Lakes, is scheduled for early 1959.

The St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., the agency created by Congress to construct and administer the U. S. portion of the project, said today in its monthly progress report that it

600 Members Resign

Milk Co-Op Urges Check on 'Raids'

SYRACUSE (AP)—The Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative last night asked the U. S. Agriculture Department to investigate resignations of more than 600 of the co-op's members in central Pennsylvania.

Eastern said the mass resignations yesterday were caused by a "raid" on its membership.

The dairymen quit to form independent, local cooperatives. A spokesman said the move resulted from Eastern's opposition to the new single milk-marketing order.

Benson's Help Sought

Cribbs asked for the investigation in telegrams to Secretary of Agriculture Benson and Dr. C. J. Blanford, administrator of the New York-New Jersey milk market.

Earlier last night, Cribbs termed the resignations a raid and implied that it was managed by two former Eastern employees now on the staff of the Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives.

Like Eastern, Mutual is a member of the big four of the producer co-ops in the seven-state New York milkshed.

Eastern strenuously opposed the single marketing order—which brought the large part of Upstate New York and northern New Jersey under federal regulation—but finally voted its membership as a bloc in favor of the expanded order.

Eastern officials said if the proposal had been defeated there would have been no order at all.

400 More May Go

Reuben Witherite of Bellefonte, Pa., spokesman for the dairymen that left Eastern, said he expected about 400 more to join the movement toward local cooperatives.

He said he delivered 624 contract cancellations yesterday to Eastern's headquarters here.

Eastern has claimed a membership of 10,000 of the 55,000 dairy farmers in the milkshed.

Cribbs telegraphed the presidents of Mutual, the Dairymen's League and the Metropolitan Milk Producers Bargaining Agency that "it is obvious that activities of this sort can only jeopardize the faith of dairymen in their organizations and result in unrest."

Witherite said the new cooperatives would be supported by a one-cent per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) deduction in members' milk checks.

Cribbs, of Poyntelle, Pa., said Eastern had "no apologies" for (Continued on Page 5, Col. 6)

Gaillard Succeeds

Gaillard succeeded where the last government failed, causing its downfall, to ram the bills through a turbulent Assembly. His 3½-week-old government won majorities of 269-200 and 267-200 on bills watered down from versions presented by former Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury.

The bills make no concessions toward eventual independence for Algeria, which Frenchmen consider part of metropolitan France rather than a colony. The rebels insist that independence is the only basis for change.

The first bill provides a federal system of partial home rule for Algeria once peace is restored. Algeria would remain in the French republic and Paris would handle

Saugerties Legion Ball Scheduled for Tonight

One of the social highlights of the season in Saugerties, the 10th annual American Legion Ball will be held tonight at Saugerties Municipal Auditorium.

Doors open at 7:30 p. m. The 90-minute stage presentation of five acts of outstanding Broadway and TV performers begins at 8 p. m.

Music for dancing following the show and until 1 a. m. will be by Garry Stevens and his TV orchestra.

As a special gesture of mercy towards the Joseph Jahn family of Saxton who were burned out of their home last week, the proceeds of the cloak room will be donated towards the fund to help them reestablish their home.

Dress for the ball will be optional. Harold Swart is general chairman of the event.

The annual event is sponsored by Lamourée-Hackett Post 72 of Saugerties.

has awarded construction contracts totaling $93,590,451.

The corporation, in detailing highlights of the actual construction, said total excavation of the mainland portion of the Long Sault Canal had reached 13,977,000 cubic yards—more than 99 per cent of the contract amount.

The westerly end of the 10-mile canal, on which are to be located the huge Eisenhower and Grasse River locks, is complete.

Eisenhower Lock, on which the last mass of concrete was placed Oct. 21, is now nearly 90 per cent complete and Grasse River Lock is 85 per cent complete.

Limited 14-foot navigation will be permitted next July through the canal and the two locks.

Car Gutted by Fire Today While on Local River Span

Fire of undetermined origin gutted the interior of a 1949 sedan on the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge about 5:30 a. m. today.

The car, owned and operated by Robert Blake of Wappingers Falls, was proceeding toward Kingston when the driver discovered that the upholstery was on fire.

A resident of the bridge area notified the Ulster County Sheriff's office which alerted the East Kingston Fire Department and dispatched Deputy Sheriffs Ernest Longyear and Harrison Rose to the scene.

Traffic was not too heavy at the time although there was some delay for a few minutes after the car burst into flames. Deputy Longyear told The Freeman that the seats of the two-door sedan were stationary and could not be removed from the vehicle, which made it more difficult to extinguish the blaze.

The driver told Longyear that he didn't smoke.

Blake was on his way to Whit- tier to pick up a friend and go deer hunting.

Chief Thomas Clausi of the East Kingston Fire Department, Assistant Chief John Watzka, Thomas Elgo, Louis Clausi, John Marino, Frank Tiano, Donald Watzka and Francis McCullough responded with fire equipment.

They returned to the station about 6:45 a. m. The car had to be towed from the bridge.

Aldermen Voted Law August 6

No Opposition At Public Hearing

Rent decontrol becomes effective in the city on Sunday based on Common Council action at a meeting in August.

The date was automatically effective by state law on the first day of the fourth month after local legislative action.

9 to 2 in Favor

A 9-2 vote Aug. 6, with two aldermen absent, adopted the measure, and supporting aldermen indicated that they were guided largely by the fact that no opposition to decontrol was voiced at a public hearing.

Aldermen William K. Bodenweber (D), ninth ward, and Samuel J. Perry (R), fifth ward, were absent on the night of the local vote, and the two dissenting aldermen were Hirschell Mayes, first ward, and George F. McArdle, 13th ward, both Republicans.

Noted Hardship

Mayes, at the August meeting, spoke chiefly in behalf of older residents of the city, to whom, he felt, decontrol would bring hardship. Rent control, he said, was never needed more.

McArdle felt that decontrol could add to financial difficulties of local residents who were now hard pressed in meeting week-by-week expenses.

The state notice making decontrol effective Dec. 1 was received at the city clerk's office Sept. 5 from the office of the Temporary State Housing Rent Commission.

$20 Is Taken From Box at Field House

Theft of $20 from a metal box in an office of the Kate Walton Field House some time early Friday morning was reported today by local police.

Police received a report early yesterday that the field house had been entered.

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons, who investigated, said entry was gained by breaking a window in an office. They said the $20 was taken from a metal box in the office.

Adams Is Key as White House Activities Go Uninterrupted

WASHINGTON (AP)—At the policy level, President Eisenhower's illness makes a difference at the White House. But the day-to-day operational routine goes on pretty much as usual.

The reason it does is that Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's chief of staff, still is very much on hand there. That means no interruption of virtually any of the staff activities he directs.

Adams, of course, also has a big voice in policy-making. He and other administration officials play an even bigger role in that field when illness hits the President.

For example, Adams sat in a meeting last Tuesday where he, Vice President Nixon and six other key men gave a final go-ahead for simultaneous production of the Thor and Jupiter, 1,500-mile range missiles. The President, Nixon reported later, had given tentative approval to such an action before he suffered a slight stroke Monday.

Government legal experts noted that presidents can and almost always have delegated some duties and powers of their office to other officials. But these experts say there are many presidential powers which cannot be delegated. In (Continued on Page 14, Col. 1)

Chamber Group Is To Meet on B-E Program for Jan.

A meeting to formulate plans for Business-Education Day, sponsored by Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, will be held in mid-December, it has been announced.

January 24 is the date of this year's B-E Day, the third annual occasion for businessmen and teachers to get together for a study of local economy.

John J. Bennett, chairman of the Chamber's B-E Day Committee, today announced the meeting for making plans between his group and representatives of local schools.

A definite date is to be announced later, he said.

On B-E Day, teachers visit local businesses and industries to observe operations and discuss employment qualifications with owners and operators.

The plan was originated as a public relations medium for teachers to become acquainted with those of the business and industrial circles, and to learn of the wide variety of job opportunities available locally and the training necessary to fill them.

Chairman Bennett said enough firms have been signed to entertain 250 teachers for the day, but he would like to have more cooperating in the get-together project.

Business and industries interested may call Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce to have their names added to the list.

Tighter Coordination On Satellites Planned

GEORGE J. SILKWORTH

Is Director Of Savings, Loan Group

A past president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, George J. Silkworth of Marlborough, who is manager of the Babcock Farms Dairy, has been elected director of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston.

The election by the board of directors was held recently to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Donald B. Otis who was recently elevated to a position at the IBM World headquarters in New York City.

Dairy Industry Figure

Silkworth has been identified with civic movements in Kingston for several years and is prominently known in the dairy industry. He resides at Marlborough with his wife, the former Phyllis Babcock and their children, Carol Lee, Jay and Kerry.

He is a member of the Marlborough Reformed Church, attended Kingston High School, graduating in 1936. He attended Moravian College, Annapolis, Md., from 1937 to 1938 and Rider College, Trenton, N. J., (Continued on Page 14, Col. 3)

Barbara Counsel Wins Point

SLA Must Answer Court on Records

BINGHAMTON (AP)—The State Liquor Authority was under a State Supreme Court order today to show why it should not return the seized records of Joseph Barbara's business.

Barbara, who operates a beer and soft drink distributing business in Endicott, was host Nov. 14 to a gangland meeting at his home in Apalachin.

Counsel for Barbara's 21-year-old son, Joseph Jr., went to court yesterday to force the liquor authority to return the business records it seized last Tuesday.

Returnable Friday

Bernard H. Chernin obtained a court order, returnable next Friday, directing the SLA to show cause why the records should not be returned.

The order also directed the SLA to show why it should not be restricted from giving any information it obtained from the records to any other agency investigating the Apalachin meeting and why such information should not be quashed.

The elder Barbara is president of the company. His son is a vice president.

In the continuing investigations into rackets and the mob conference, there were these other developments yesterday:

1—Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz launched a series of court actions aimed at crushing the racketeer element in the private garbage hauling business in the metropolitan New York City area.

2—Asst. U. S. Atty. Margaret Millus said she would move Monday in New York to speed the denaturalization case against Joseph Profaci, 61, one of the 60 men who attended the Apalachin meeting.

The government charged in 1954 that Profaci had failed to disclose arrests in Italy when he applied for United States citizenship.

Deportations Possible

3—In Pittston and Scranton, Pa., agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service went to police headquarters to review the records of some of the men who attended the meeting. (Continued on Page 5, Col. 5)

Alert May Be Today On Sputnik

ROCKET IS NEARING DEATH PLUNGE DATE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—This could be the weekend that the rocket of Sputnik I makes its death plunge.

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory here hopes to be able to predict the final dive 24 hours in advance.

May Alert World

If it can, there may be a worldwide alert, possibly today, to watch for the spectacular finish.

Scientists say the odds are the rocket will fall in the northern hemisphere.

Sunday morning the rocket makes three southwest to northeast sweeps—assuming its plunge has not yet begun.

The first Sunday passage begins about 6:45 a. m., in the Florida area and parallels the east coast to Maine, passing near New York and Boston.

The next crosses the midwest toward the north.

The third comes in from the (Continued on Page 5, Col. 8)

1,300 4-H'ers Convene For Five-Day Congress

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's biggest, most select teen-age party—a five-day affair—drew some 1,300 buoyant, effusive youngsters to Chicago today.

Officially, it doesn't get under way until tomorrow—the 36th national 4-H Club Congress.

But hundreds of boys and girls, most of them 14 to 20, were already on hand—many of them for a peek at the international livestock exposition before their own round of assemblies, luncheons, dinners, dances, and sight-seeing tours begins.

The 4-H'ers have earned their fun—as state and national winners in competitions among two million youthful rural dwellers throughout the nation, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Their projects all come under the heading of "useful work—domestic arts, livestock raising, farming, mechanical aptitudes and the like."

While in Chicago, 218 boys and girls will claim college scholarships worth $82,430 as prizes for excellence in their work. These awards, and round-trip travel expenses for most of the visitors, are paid for by business organizations, foundations and individuals who have provided nearly $50,000 to support this annual highlight event.

No visitors to Chicago receive a warmer civic welcome than the 4-H winners. Civic and business groups outdo themselves to provide red carpet hospitality for them.

The theme of this year's 4-H Club Congress is "Improving Family and Community Living."

The club members will stage their annual 4-H parade Wednesday night at the livestock exposition in the International Amphitheatre.

Scientific Group Will Be Bigger Critics Advised To Wait for 1958

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has moved to tighten White House coordination of the U. S. effort to speed scientific and technological progress.

The White House announced yesterday that the 12-member science advisory committee, organized initially under the Office of Defense Mobilization, will work directly with the White House hereafter.

To Have 17 Members

The statement—issued in Gettysburg, Pa., where Eisenhower is convalescing from a slight stroke—also said the group would be expanded to a membership of 17.

The White House announcement came as U. S. specialists continued final preparations leading up to the launching of the first American satellite, expected sometime next week.

The announcement also coincided with predictions from some U. S. scientists that the rocket from Russia's Sputnik I may plunge to earth tomorrow, and that it might fall in North America.

Hagen's Advice

Dr. John P. Hagen of Washington, director of the U. S. Navy's satellite program, told a St. Louis audience last night:

"For those who feel critical of the United States position in the satellite effort, I might suggest the proper course is to wait until the end of the International Geophysical Year (December 1958) and tally the significance of the scientific advances which have been made in our satellites."

The first U. S. Moonlet will be a small 6.4-inch test sphere, the forerunner of larger and more fully instrumented globes which are scheduled for launching beginning in March.

White House Statement

The White House statement on the advisory committee change explained the move in these terms:

"This action was taken in order that there would be a more direct relationship between the committee, the President and Dr. James R. Killian Jr., his newly appointed (Continued on Page 5, Col. 8)

Chamber Mails Out Ballots To Elect Seven Directors

Ballots for the election of seven directors of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce were mailed to all active members today.

John B. Wilkie, chairman of the tellers of election, said that the ballots contain the names of the 14 nominees, previously announced, as selected by vote of the membership. On this election ballot the seven nominees receiving the highest number of votes will be declared elected for a term of three years starting January 1, 1958.

The ballots are to be counted not less than 10 nor more than 15 days after being mailed. Therefore, Wilkie urges that all ballots be returned promptly.

Any mailed after December 9 may not arrive in time to be counted.

In commenting on the election, Chamber president Robert L. Sabin said that he expected a large percentage return of ballots and suggested that members keep the advantages of a broad representation of types of business, industry and services in mind when voting, however, once elected, Sabin said, "directors represent the entire membership."

The election ballot letter to members also lists the names and affiliations of the 14 men who remain on the board of directors after December 31. Officers for 1958 will be elected from the board of directors at the regular January meeting.

The Bible is a CATHOLIC Book

People differ radically in what they think about the Bible. Some seem to think it was handed down from Heaven written in English and bound in morocco. Many accept it as the inspired Word of God without knowing why they are justified in doing so. And others say that the Bible is full of contradictions and must be taken "with a grain of salt."

A proper understanding of the Scriptures can exert a tremendous influence for good in your personal life. You should, therefore, know where we get the Bible... what it means... why you can believe its every word.

Nowhere in the Bible text will you find a list of the 73 inspired books of which it is composed. This list was given to the world by the Catholic Church almost three full centuries after the Crucifixion of Jesus Christ. Between the time of the Crucifixion and the time the Scriptures were gathered into a single Book, millions had received and accepted the teachings of Jesus Christ... and had died without ever seeing the complete Bible.

Established by Jesus Christ Himself and rapidly spread among the nations of the world, the Catholic Church was carrying on Christ's work for the salvation of men some 60 years before the Apostle John wrote his books of the New Testament.

For more than a thousand years afterward, the Scriptures were preserved and circulated by Catholic monks and scholars who laboriously copied the sacred text by hand. And the Bible authorized by the Catholic Church was the first book produced by Gutenberg upon the invention of printing.

Yes, the Bible is truly a Catholic book. They were members of the Catholic Church who, under God's inspiration, wrote the New Testament in its entirety.

It was the Catholic Church which treasured it and gave it to the world in its original and unaltered form. It is the infallible authority of the Catholic Church that always has been the only sure guarantee of its inspiration.

There are obscure and difficult passages in the Bible, some of which may seem confusing. But with the complete revealed truth of God, delivered to her from the beginning, the Catholic Church has faithfully unfolded the meaning of the written Word of God to past generations of mankind—and does so today.

Those who are familiar with the Bible, as well as those reading it for the first time, will find many important questions concerning it answered in an interesting booklet which we shall send you in a plain wrapper free on request. And no body will call on you. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-3.

St. Paul's Church To Unveil New Stained Windows

At the regular 10:45 a. m. Sunday service at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 355 Hasbrouck Avenue, a new church window will be unveiled.

The window is a gift of William Wolff in memory of The Skalla and Wolff families. The unveiling will be on the birthday of Mrs. Wolff who died last May.

Colored Glass Used

When the church was built, plain colored glass windows were used. During the pastorate of Dr. O. L. Schreiber, he urged that these be replaced by stained glass and several were put in at that time. They follow a theme of events in the life of the Lord, and the new one portrays the Resurrection.

The service will include the following: Prelude, "Theme from Symphony" No. 20, Haydn; the order for the unveiling and blessing of a memorial window; solo by Herman LaTour; Anthem, "Come As You Are" by Ellis; Postlude. Mr. Wolff will officiate at the unveiling, and the pastor will lead the service. The theme of the message will be "The Glory of the Lord in Our Life." Mrs. Louis Salzmann will be at the organ. The public is cordially invited.

Katrine Family Gospel Service Slated on Sunday

The Family Gospel Hour will be held Sunday at Lake Katrine Grange Hall, located just off Route 9W, north of Kingston.

The Family Gospel Hour consists of two services, one for adults in the upper auditorium, and one for children in the lower auditorium. Both services are held from 6 to 7 p. m.

Musical Offerings

In the service for adults the pianist will be Gilbert Cicio. Mrs. Roberta Gaddis will sing "Thanks Be to God" and "Hear Thou My Prayer." There will be a Bible message by the Rev. Scott E. Vining, "Christians on Trial."

In the children's services there will be a color filmstrip, "Business in Great Waters." The children's choir will rehearse the Christmas cantata to be presented December 22. All the children will participate in this program.

The Family Gospel Hour is an interdenominational community project. Everyone is welcome.

Your Life And Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL
THE SIZE OF SPARKS

There is no dependable relationship between the size of a spark and the size of the conflagration it may cause. Nobody ever looked over a vast fire sweeping across thousands of acres of precious timber and said: "It must have been a tremendous spark to start so extensive a blaze." Actually the biggest of fires often have their beginning in a spark so tiny that it had a very difficult time kindling any flame at all.

"One single spark, with but a moment life
May, of itself, be father to a fire."

What is true of the relationship between sparks and fires is true also of the relationship between inspiration and that which is kindled by it. No one can say that because an incident is humble or a life ordinary it will never make much difference with the world. A modest idea may start a business; an insignificant word may change a life; a run-of-the-mill kindness may turn a gloomy day into a bright one for some soul. An author, referring to a certain man, says of him that he had "a smile tucked away under his moustache." There is no telling what difference one such smile may make with the struggle of life in the big, burly world. When Charles Kingsley was asked the secret of his wonderful life, he replied: "I had a friend." And that friend probably had no idea he (or perhaps it was a she) was the inspiration which was creating a Charles Kingsley to bless the world. Life does not always find its greatest inspiration in the tremendous. Courage, very often, is water that is dipped out of wells that seem insignificant; faith is often a tremendous fire started by the smallest of sparks. Sometimes the biggest lifts come from the smallest of helpers.

There is in England a chapel called "Little Charles's Chapel." This is the story back of it. A new chapel was sorely needed in the town but the people were poor, trade was bad, and the committee had given up all hope of ever getting one. Three days after the plan had been abandoned, a nine-year-old boy came up the hill wheeling his little wheelbarrow with six bricks in it, which he had begged of a builder. He knocked at the minister's house and said that he had brought the bricks to begin the new chapel. The news of the community discouragement with the project had not reached his young ears. The minister took the bricks, called the committee back together, told the members what had happened. And around a table with six bricks as a centerpiece, hope was revived; and the chapel eventually became a reality. Charles did not live long after that. But his name is immortalized by the house of worship which his eager young faith inspired.

Port Ewen Church Offers Spirituals By Seminarian

Pick Something Special

Here are grouped all of the ingredients to make a perfect Christmas morning for any woman. Practical, pretty and just for fun, they're all here. You could start with (upper left) a bib of beads a la Chanel by Richelieu. This one is a glowing mixture of crystals and fake pearls in tone-on-tone beige and brown. For a frivolous evening, give her an imported French bag (upper center). This one is white, beaded with pink roses.

Sandalf stockings by Hanes (lower left) are sheer, seamless and crystal clear, ideal for holiday wear. Personalized leather clutch (lower center) from Douglas Warner has her name written in one corner to your order. This is a roomy bag that looks flat when it's closed. The gift that every woman loves (right) is a robe like this one by Eye-Ful. It's white, is quilted, be-ribboned and be-ruffled at the bodice.

CLINTONDALE

CLINTONDALE — Mrs. Gertrude Mount and Mrs. Minnie Stiller of this place are in charge of reservations for the bus trip of Highland Home Demonstration unit to New York City Tuesday, Dec. 10. Mrs. Charles Thorn, also of Clintondale, is president of the unit.

A class of 25 candidates received the third and fourth degrees at a meeting held last Monday night by the Clintondale Grange. A degree team from Plattkill Grange conferred the degrees. Candidates were from Clintondale, Highland and Patton Granges. Fred Eckert, master of the Clintondale Grange, introduced Grange Master Jack Nace, Highland; Ray Crossman, Patton and Kenneth Cronk, Plattkill. The next meeting of the Clintondale Grange will be on Monday.

Mrs. Louise Harries who teaches school in Brooklyn spent the holiday weekend at her home here. Allied Communities Fire Company has started a drive to raise funds for the purchase of a respirator for the use of the firemen in emergencies. Chief Lawton Upright of Gardiner Department attended the meeting of the company on Monday night and demonstrated the use of the equipment. If one is purchased a squad of life savers will be trained.

Mrs. Adeline Roland and daughter, Judy of New York City spent the weekend here with relatives. Members of the Clintondale Grange attended the county-wide youth meeting held at the Highland Grange Hall Saturday.

There will be an election for qualified voters of Clintondale Fire District Tuesday night, Dec. 3, for the election of three fire commissioners and a secretary-treasurer of the district. The terms of Commissioners Thomas Shay Jr., LeRoy Gruman and Ned Conklin are expiring. Conklin has moved to Kentucky. The term of secretary-treasurer Howard Satterlund is also expiring. The voting will be done at Clintondale firehouse between the hours of 7 and 9 p. m.

Radioman and Mrs. Joseph Foster of Philadelphia spent the holiday here with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Conklin, Main Street.

The congregations of the Friends and Methodist Churches joined for a union Thanksgiving service at the Friends Meeting House Wednesday night. Dr. James Brimelow delivered the sermon.

Clintondale Conservation Club will meet at the firehouse

Kills Self Over Bible Purchase After Quarrel

Scout Week Plans Are Announced At Council Meet

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Police Lt. Ed Swan said a 40-year-old housewife killed herself with a .32 pistol last night after a domestic quarrel over her purchase of a $70 Bible.

Swan said Mrs. James North left her husband and 2-year-old daughter in the middle of dinner, walked into the bedroom and shot herself in the heart.

North told police the quarrel started when he arrived home from his bookkeeping job and saw the Bible. He said he and his wife had previously agreed not to spend money on what he called extras.

Claude Roosa, James Mertes and Gene Coy were among those to play in the two benefit games at Highland Friday night. The games were played for the benefit of the Highland Little League.

A supply pastor will deliver the sermon at the Methodist Church at 9:45 Sunday. Sunday school will be held at 1 p. m. in charge of Mrs. Thomas Powers.

John Johnson, 31, had one yesterday when he answered a charge of drunkenness. He said he had been chasing his rooster when officers arrested him in front of the small downtown hotel where he lives.

"I might have looked drunk, but I was just tucked out," he explained. "That rooster was hard to catch."

Are you sure?" asked the judge.

"Yes, sir, judge," said Johnson. "That rooster had just been given to me as a pet. He was nervous, it being Thanksgiving and all, and he got loose."

The judge pondered. "That's the most outlandish alibi I've ever heard," he said finally. "It's so outlandish I'm letting you go. Case dismissed."

Negro Girl Fined $50 For Assault on Bus

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A $50 fine and court costs were assessed in City Court yesterday against a Negro school girl for striking a white girl on a city bus.

Mrs. Barbara Smith testified at a hearing Nov. 8 that the Negro pupil, Fannie Robinson, sat in her lap when she refused to share a seat with her and struck her during the altercation which followed. The 15-year-old wife was unmarried at the time.

Mrs. Smith said other seats were available on the bus, but witnesses testified there were not. City buses have been integrated since last December.

Miss Robinson appealed the $50 fine for assault and battery.

NYC Car Shop Lays Off 1,000

ROCHESTER (AP)—The East Rochester car shop of the New York Central Railroad says it is cutting its work force from 1,600 men to 600 men because of economic conditions.

George R. Glidden, general superintendent, said 100 workers were laid off yesterday and another 300 will be laid off Tuesday. He said the cutbacks were necessary because of a drop in the production of new freight cars and in repair work.

About 600 men were laid off in the past two months.

Light, Bright Requisites for Trip Into Space

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Whoever becomes the first human to go rocketing off into space will have to be light, bright and emotionally stable, says the director of the United States' earth satellite program.

Dr. John P. Hagen, who heads the Operation Vanguard at the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, lists intelligence, emotional balance and scientific training among the prime requisites for the first "space man."

He added in an interview: "Then, since weight always is an important consideration, a smaller person would be preferable for such a flight."

But don't hold your breath. Dr. Hagen said "there is much investigative work to be done" and it will be years before a manned rocket is ready to blast off.

Jobless Rate Up In Most Major Output Centers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment rose in most major production and employment centers during the fall months, the Labor Department reports.

The most significant jobless increases were reported by areas with worker concentrations in aircraft, machinery and primary metals, the department said yesterday.

Some increases were attributed to seasonal lulls in food processing, lumber and construction.

The department said in its report that three-fifths of the 149 major centers experienced increases in unemployment, but that generally the increases were small to moderate.

Conditions in some areas were helped by seasonal hiring in retail trades, and by hiring in automobile plants now producing new models.

Buffalo's Output Of Steel Declines

BUFFALO (AP)—Steel production in the Buffalo area has dropped to 73.2 per cent of rated capacity—lowest in more than three years—with the closing of two more open hearth furnaces.

The Bethlehem Steel Co., which shut down two hearths last week, closed two more yesterday, leaving in operation 24 of the 35 furnaces at the Lackawanna plant.

The Republic Steel Corp. is running five of its nine hearths. Two of the three at Wickwire Spencer division of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp. are out of production.

Although no reasons have been announced for Bethlehem's four shutdowns, recent demands for steel have fallen.

Matter of FACT

The curious thing about motion pictures is that we never see them while they are in motion, but only during the fraction of a second when they are stopped. Each phase of action is photographed as a separate picture. Through our eyes and nerves, our brain retains the image of one picture while the next moves onto the screen, thus we are never aware the screen is actually dark almost half the time.

Sister, Brother Killed on Bike, 5 Others Hurt

BATAVIA (AP)—A sister and brother riding double on a bicycle were killed and five persons were injured in an automobile accident last night.

Killed were Cherry, 11, and Randy, 9, children of Mr. and Mrs. William Terrell of Batavia.

State police said a car driven by Otis Leach, 32, of nearby Pavilion struck the bicycle on Route 5 and then, while swerving in an attempt to avoid the bicycle, collided with a car driven by Darwin Clark, 44, of nearby Elba.

Leach, Clark and Clark's wife, Stella, 38, and their children, Gary, 11 and Robert, 8, were injured. None was reported in serious condition.

Hunter Is Fair After Freak Mishap

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Daniel Bonoski, 16, of Larksville, was reported in fair condition at General Hospital here last night after he was wounded in a freak hunting accident.

Bonoski was bear hunting on North mountain yesterday when the accident occurred.

He had placed his rifle against a bush and climbed a tree to look around. While in the tree the rifle slipped from the bush and fired. Bonoski was struck in the abdomen.

He managed to walk four miles to his car. As he drove, he lost consciousness, and the vehicle veered off the highway to a halt. Two other hunters found him and drove him to the hospital, where the bullet was removed.

GI Rescues Korean Trapped in Seoul Fire

SEOUL (AP)—An American soldier rescued a Korean who was trapped in a fire at Kumo Jom Ni village near here, the U. S. Army said today.

He was identified as Pfc. Andrew De Salvatore, 21, of Brooklyn, N. Y. De Salvatore is now assigned to the 15th Aviation Company, 1st Cavalry Division.

The Army said he saw a Korean house afire outside his company area last night, ran to it, kicked in the locked door and carried the occupant to safety. De Salvatore was unhurt.

A BIT OF APARTNESS

Much is said these days in praise of something called togetherness. Let a small voice be lifted also in defense of apartness. Togetherness, if we understand the term as those who use it most often intend, is more or less a way of life. It involves doing practically everything with someone else, generally a member of one's family. Picnics, do-it-yourself projects, reading aloud, cleaning the basement—this is the sort of thing that goes swimmingly with togetherness.

Let it not be supposed that we make light of togetherness. To do things in a group is pleasant. Fellowship, a fine old word that was used long before someone thought up togetherness, expresses one of the warmest of all human concepts. All the same, there is something to be said also for apartness—that is, for a bit of solitude now and then.

The man who is always with someone else, who never takes time to sit and contemplate life, misses one of the great enriching satisfactions. He is in danger of becoming a shallow person. It is good to be alone now and then—to read, or listen to music, or look at a thing of beauty in solitude. Those who do this have more to offer when they are again together with friends and loved ones.

This is something that has been well understood by generations of wise men, including the great religious teachers. It is a piece of wisdom all can profit by.

RECRUITING SCIENTISTS

We seem to be awakening to the fact that if we want to retain our position of world leadership we will have to encourage young people to study for careers in science. One promising development is a project sponsored by the American Institute of Physics.

Under this project leading physicists employed in education and industry will visit American colleges. The physicists will meet with faculty members, confer with administrators and talk to students about the advantages and rewards of scientific careers.

The idea is sound. Perhaps it could be extended so that leading scientists would visit high schools. High school students are impressionable; the visiting scientists might awaken interest in the minds of young people who might some day provide the scientific leadership which we will need.

For years, old grads and football coaches have made mighty efforts to recruit young men with special athletic skills. As a result, many college football and basketball teams play with the polish and poise of professionals. Surely we can afford to be no less zealous in recruiting young people to handle the vital jobs in science that remain to be done. How successful we are in this pursuit may determine our future prosperity, perhaps even the security of the free world.

EARLY? THAT'S NOW

It is safe to wager that a few hours before the stores close on December 24 a great many of us will be rushing about doing our last-minute shopping. Traffic will be heavy, crowds will jostle us, and we may have trouble finding the gifts we want. And as we make our weary way home we will doubtless vow sincerely that next year we will do our Christmas shopping early.

Few will recall making the same good resolution last year. Procrastination seems to be a part of human nature. Yet a little common sense about our Christmas shopping can spare our tempers and make the holiday much more enjoyable.

Kingston merchants are now displaying Christmas merchandis. Smart shoppers visit the stores early. They find the gifts they want, and they have an almost unlimited choice.

There is still time to put last year's good resolution to work. Why not avoid the

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE HEART

Those who have suffered any kind of a heart ailment know how frightening it is and also how that machine of life can repair itself. But one must be careful not to bring on more calamities, to eat too much, to eat the wrong food, to walk against the wind, to climb stairs or mountains, to worry and get very excited.

The President's job is worrisome and no matter how a man steels himself against the fortunes of life, he cannot refuse to recognize when the course of events has gone against him. Ike has been a soldier and the assumption has been that no matter how weak his knowledge of politics may have been, he knew soldiering. In fact, many citizens favored Ike because he was not a politician, as they had grown weary of the tricks and wiles of politics.

But the soldier they respected, Ike had been so successful in World War II, they felt; he would show those Russians a thing or two. Then came Sputnik and all of Khrushchev's theatrical threats and the statements of scientists and others that we had fallen five years behind the Russians, and the disclosures of disgraceful competition among the branches of the military although they were supposed to be unified.

It was enough to try a man's soul. The businessmen put Eisenhower into the Presidency. They deserted Robert A. Taft and chose this General, who was a stranger to most of them, because they were certain that he could be elected and thus an end would be put to the Roosevelt-Truman regime which they had found so obnoxious. They courted Eisenhower while he was president of Columbia University and when he was in Paris organizing NATO. They made pilgrimages to Paris in parties. In this exciting atmosphere, General Eisenhower consented to run for President.

As President, Eisenhower made no pretenses at great knowledge and experience. He admitted that the problems of the job were new to him and that he had to learn civil administration and adjust to party politics. He organized the White House like an Army General Staff, with former Governor of New Hampshire Sherman Adams as Chief-of-Staff. Nobody knew Sherman Adams too well or much about him and the old Republicans, the followers of Herbert Hoover, the followers of Robert A. Taft and the followers of Joe McCarthy distrusted not only Adams but most of the unusual faces that suddenly appeared in the White House and in Republican circles.

Thus, the party unity which both Eisenhower and Taft sought never developed during Eisenhower's first or second term. His staff despised the pre-1952 Republicans and they, in turn, gave the Administration a tough time in Congress where they could be effective. The battle between the Old and Modern Republicans reached a climax in the White House fight on Senator Joe McCarthy. In this, the White House was successful not only in eliminating McCarthy from political life but also in breaking up the pre-1952 Republican groups. Modern Republicanism became the successor to the New Deal and Sherman Adams became the camel-driver to the prophet.

The cost of this achievement was not the destruction of the professional politician who limited himself to local affairs but the loss of the support of the businessmen who became increasingly fearful of the policies of the Eisenhower Administration, such as the anti-trust activities of the Department of Justice, the tight money policy of the Treasury, the continued wage and extravagance in government, the unwillingness to adopt the Hoover Reports, the softness toward American Communists, the stimulation of racial strife, etc., etc.

By 1957, the businessmen were withholding their financial support from the Republican Party. They were expressing their disappointments as loudly as Khrushchev was boasting of his enormous successes. The public relations machine that brought Eisenhower into the White House was no longer available for the causes he sponsored and the ideas he inspired.

The pressure upon him must have been enormous, too great for one whose heart had already been weakened by a thrombosis. The task continues to be too great to bear today when he is a sick man. It is a tough job to be President in a society in which men are free to disagree and to express their disagreements.

Urges Caution in Use

Of Ultraviolet Lamps

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

I am not sure whether the vogue for so-called sunlamps has faded, but it seems to me that I get fewer requests for information on this subject than I did two or three years ago. It is still true, however, that when the winter months come, a good many people use, or wish to know whether they should use, these electrical devices which should be known as ultraviolet lamps rather than sunlamps.

These devices emit some, but not all, of the rays which come from the sun. Since thousands use or buy them, it is well worthwhile to know something about what they do and do not provide.

There are several similarities between ultraviolet rays produced by these lamps and those emitted by the sun. Both, when they reach the skin, result in the production of vitamin D which is extremely important in the formation of bone and in other activities of the body. Some people use these lamps for cosmetic reasons; they like to look brown and tanned without spending the money at some winter resort.

Specifically, ultraviolet rays are valuable in the treatment of the condition known as rickets and are even more important in the prevention of that disorder. Certain foods can be treated with ultraviolet rays by adding vitamin D to them.

Ultraviolet rays have uses in a number of other diseases including some disorders of the skin. In some cases it seems to produce benefit, while in others undesirable effects are encountered. In the presence of a skin disease (or any other important disease) these lamps should not be used except on the advice of a physician.

WHEN USED on the normal skin, ultraviolet lamps will produce changes much like those of the sun. A burn of the skin with redness just like an ordinary sunburn will occur if the skin is exposed too long. This can be dangerous just as regular sunburn sometimes is.

The rays are particularly hazardous to the eyes, as the sensitive nerve tissues lying in the back of the eye can be seriously and permanently damaged. No one, therefore, should look into an ultraviolet lamp any more than he would look at the sun.

When given in small doses and at proper intervals, ultraviolet rays will cause tanning of the skin in much the same way that sunlight does. If the danger of overexposure is avoided this tanning often improves the appearance as well as stimulating vitamin D formation.

Not all ultraviolet lamps on the market are considered equally satisfactory. They should be selected with care.

rush and be certain of getting the gifts you want? Those who shop early are likely to enjoy a far less hectic, and perhaps more spiritual, Christmas season.

"We Haven't Done Much Since the Anti-Intellectual Explosion a Few Years Back"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—One of the old Republican charges against the Democrats was that Presidents Roosevelt and Truman brought prosperity only by getting the country involved in big spending programs for war and national defense. But the shoe is on the other foot, now, and beginning to pinch.

Big business expansion has slowed down. Productivity has leveled off. Personal income taxes are declining.

The wholesale price index has dropped slightly. Retail prices for October are near the September level, indicating a possible end of the precipitous price rise spiral.

Unemployment is rising and there are even admissions from officials like Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell that it will continue to rise through February.

None of these declines is great. They indicate that the economy is in a delicate balance which can swing either way.

THE GENERAL TREND is described by the new economic phrase of "sidewise." It means neither up nor down. But this "movement" was enough to cause prophets of gloom like AFL-CIO President George Meany to sound off again against the administration's tight money and balanced budget policies.

This is regarded by some Washington economists as crying over conditions and causes that are no longer valid.

Federal Reserve banks have already begun to ease off on interest rates. And the obvious need of higher government appropriations for missile production makes the prospects for a balanced budget next year extremely doubtful.

The level of government spending for next year has not been determined and won't be by Congress—for seven months.

But if the Eisenhower administration is forced into a big missile spending program, and if that checks rising unemployment, it will give the Democrats a chance to accuse the Republicans of having to spend the country back into prosperity.

Since aircraft production and aircraft parts suppliers are concentrated in these 11 states, any expanded government spending program for missiles would greatly change the employment picture. But since it will take some months to get such a program into full operation, a drop in unemployment may not be expected before next spring or early summer.

UNEMPLOYMENT NORMALLY takes two big jumps during the year. The first is in June when over a million high school and college graduates start looking for jobs. Until they get jobs they are listed as "unemployed."

The second is in February, after the Christmas rush and before the spring farm pickup.

Total unemployment was over three million last February. It was two and a half million for October. Some predictions are that the total will be close to four million next February. This would be a new high for the Eisenhower administration. But Secretary Mitchell says it won't be serious if kept below six million.

Department of Labor's latest monthly survey on the characteristics of unemployment gives the picture in detail.

There are three principal areas of rising unemployment today, according to state unemployment insurance agencies. They are the Middle Atlantic, Great Lakes and Pacific coast states.

About a third of the insured unemployment is in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania and New Jersey showed 4 per cent insured unemployment. New York reported a fall pickup in the apparel industries, but a drop in aircraft industries on Long Island and general industrial employment.

ILLINOIS, INDIANA, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin accounted for a fourth of the unemployment, due largely to declines in automobile production during model change-overs.

Michigan reported highest insured unemployment in the nation, 6.8 per cent. This is what set off Walter Reuther and other union spokesmen in demands that the government do something.

Cutbacks in aircraft manufacture hit Oregon, Washington and California. The totals were swelled in California by auto model change-over and in Oregon and Washington by cutbacks in lumbering industries.

Since aircraft production and aircraft parts suppliers are concentrated in these 11 states, any expanded government spending program for missiles would greatly change the employment picture. But since it will take some months to get such a program into full operation, a drop in unemployment may not be expected before next spring or early summer.

Seek Contributions For Yule Program

WOODSTOCK—Letters requesting contributions for the Woodstock Township Christmas program are now being received.

The dramatic arrival of Santa Claus and the distribution of approximately 1,000 Christmas stockings will highlight the traditional holiday event. The true religious meaning of Christmas and the gathering together to glorify the birth of Christ will be the most predominant feeling during the ceremonies.

Christmas is a time of remembrance and giving and that is what the community tries to do annually with the Christmas program. There are cheer baskets to the sick and disabled and there are remembrance baskets to those who are alone and there are a number of food baskets. These baskets will all be packed by the Woodstock Community Jaycees.

An enormous amount of work goes into the entire program from the grounds and technical committee which builds the platform on the village green, the acquiring, setting up and lighting of the trees, the loud speakers, wiring, painting and the maintenance and general safety plans for those who gather on Christmas eve. Another committee handles the letters, financing and book work while the program committee acts as directors and producers of the theatrical production.

All residents are asked to remember the spirit in which this work is done and to become a part of it with financial support, without which nothing is possible. There will be but one effort made for funds and that is by letter, and all are asked to contribute as generously as possible.

Artists Group Slates Annual Christmas Show

Plan are under way for the annual Christmas show of paintings and crafts by members of the Woodstock Artists Association, in the Woodstock Art Gallery from Dec. 14 to Dec. 24.

Arrangements for the Christmas show were discussed at an informal meeting November 25, in the offices of the Ulster County Townsman, which was attended by members of the 1957 committee, headed by Mrs. Marguerite Isaacs, general chairman of the Christmas show.

As in past years, there will be an opening party Saturday, Dec. 14, from 4 to 6 p. m. Thereafter, the Art Gallery will be open daily from 1 to 6 p. m. Members of the Woodstock Artists Association wishing to exhibit in the Christmas show may bring work to the gallery December 12, between 1 and 4 p. m.

With prices ranging from $1 to $100, and a large number of exhibitors anticipated, the Christmas show is sure to provide an unusual opportunity for persons wishing to acquire the work of a fine artist or craftsman, for themselves, or for a Christmas gift to a discriminating friend.

The committee for the 1957 Christmas show is as follows: Mrs. Isaacs, general chairman; Manuel Bromberg, chairman of the house committee; Howard Mandel, decorating committee; James Turnbull and Reginald Wilson, hanging committee; John McClellan, poster committee; Mrs. John Striebel, refreshment committee; Mrs. Carl Hubbell, publicity.

Cold Air Now Moving Eastward

By The Associated Press

A cold air mass which brought numbing temperatures to the north central portion of the nation moved eastward Saturday and produced gusty winds and snow flurries from the Great Lakes southward to the mid-Mississippi Valley.

An area stretching from the central Rockies and northern plains to the Great Lakes was turned into a vast ice box.

Fraser, Colo., high in the Rockies, had a reading of 18 below zero. Generally, the temperatures ranged from 10 above to a few degrees below zero from the eastern Dakotas eastward into northwest Wisconsin.

Early Saturday, widespread rains in the northeast had gradually diminished and there was some clearing as well as a cooling trend.

In the far west, night time temperatures in interior portions were in the 10 to 20 degrees span. Skies were fair into California but the Pacific northwest had cloudy skies and showers.

Southern California was whipped by winds reaching 80 m. p. h. Friday night. The big blow fanned bush fires and raised dust storms.

Mohammed Keeps Mum on Reports Of Ifni Fighting

DALLAS (AP)—King Mohammed V of Morocco maintained silence on international developments affecting his homeland today as he rested here before flying to visit the giant King Ranch in South Texas.

Sources with his party said the visiting ruler had received no official dispatches and therefore felt unqualified to discuss reports of fighting with Spanish forces in Ifni, the troubled territory on Morocco's west coast.

Spanish officials have claimed that Moroccan irregulars bent on freeing their colony of Ifni, on the western bulge of Africa, attacked Spanish outposts. Morocco laid the attacks to Ifnian tribesmen.

The King flew here from Williamsburg, Va., yesterday on a 16-day tour of the United States. He was whisked off for an inspection of the General Motors assembly plant at nearby Arlington. Later he viewed fashion models at a Dallas specialty store and attended a dinner at Southern Methodist University.

In South Texas his visit will be at the state's largest ranch, covering more than one million acres. It is famed for developing Santa Gertrudis cattle, said to be the only true cattle breed ever produced in America.

France Is Moving To Become 4th Nuclear Power

LONDON (AP)—France is reported moving ahead with a nuclear weapons program despite U. S.-British arguments that French resources could be better used on other things.

Informed sources said today French Premier Felix Gaillard told Tuesday that France is determined to follow through on her ambitions to become the world's fourth nuclear power.

The subject was said to have come up during a discussion of plans for the mid-December conference of NATO government leaders in Paris. Informants said Macmillan still hopes the United States will be able to persuade the French to concentrate on other defense needs.

France was reported unlikely to drop the program unless other nuclear powers—Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union—do the same as part of a world disarmament agreement.

French officials reportedly have been dropping broad hints that France may be ready to test an atomic bomb by the end of 1958, probably in the Sahara Desert.

Churchill Is 83 Today, Relives War With Monty

WESTERHAM, England (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill turned 83 today. He sipped champagne and relived his stirring years as Britain's wartime leader.

With him at his Chartwell home, was Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, one of Britain's most celebrated commanders of World War II. Teetotaler Montgomery had tea.

As they chatted, telegraph messengers and mail trucks drew up to the door of the country home and deposited birthday greetings from all over the world. Nobody knew exactly how many there were. A spokesman just said it was a "fantastic number."

Only One Candle

Tonight, Churchill goes to a family dinner party in his honor and a 15-pound iced birthday cake with one candle awaited him.

Last year, when the world joined Britain in honoring 82 years of the Churchill saga, there were 82 candles on the birthday cake.

Mrs. Maria Florio, who has designed Churchill's birthday cakes for 20 years said she decided on one candle this time "because I thought it would be a change."

The inscription read:

"We pass through winter and hope for spring, and our ambitions are ever new. Of ambitious hopes we may yet sing, while England still has men like you."

It was composed by the cake-maker's schoolboy son, Christopher.

Churchill's home has been fitted with a powerful television aerial so that this evening Sir Winston, with Lord Montgomery beside him, may view a television story of Sir Winston's career. It has been titled "Man of the Century."

Asks for Comfort

Churchill these days gets about with the hesitation of old age and he has asked that he be able to see the program in the comfort of his home, which is just outside of London, good receiving range for television.

Sir Winston was snowed under by telegrams of congratulations from the United States, so he issued a blanket "thank you."

His secretary said Churchill dictated the following message:

"I should like to express my warm thanks to all those who so kindly sent me messages on my 83rd birthday."

"There is such a large number that I cannot, unfortunately, answer them all personally, but it has given me and my family great pleasure to be remembered in this way."

Khrushy to Get New Wardrobe

ROME (AP)—From head to narrow, pointed toe, Nikita S. Khrushchev soon will be ready to step out dressed as a new man.

The proprietor of a Rome tailor shop said today he has finished a wardrobe for the little round man who runs the Soviet Communist Party. From the tailor's description, it will bring a revolution to the Kremlin—this one in style.

Mostly Gray, Brown

Angelo Litrico said he would deliver two suits, two overcoats, two pairs of shoes, three hats and four silk neckties to the Soviet Embassy today.

But not a single item has any trace of red. Gray and brown dominate. The Russians, Litrico explained, don't like red in their clothing.

Nor does anything in the wardrobe conform to the accepted Russian style: baggy trousers, loose coat, tank-like shoes and drab ties. Khrushchev will be attired in the latest European styles, with even a dash of American flavor.

Litrico announced a month ago that he was making the suits and overcoats for Khrushchev, who is five-foot-five and has a 49-inch waist. The tailor revealed only last night that the order had been expanded to include the fancy accessories. He said he expected to receive the equivalent of almost $700 for the outfits.

Shoes Are Graceful
The shoes, made by a Florence artisan and about the same as an American size eight, are narrow and gracefully pointed in keeping with the current Italian trend. "Nothing like those tanks the Russians usually wear," said Litrico proudly.

The hats are fairly wide-brimmed and slightly crushed at the top.

Litrico describes the ties as "fantasy"—a mixture of colors with no positive designs. Not very loud by western tastes, the tailor said, but a step ahead of the plain Soviet ties. Gray and brown are the dominant colors.

Milk Co-Op

its position favoring a separate order for northern New Jersey. "This was the position established by its farmer-members acting democratically under majority rule."

Witherite, the leader of the insurgents, said that under the single order "farmers have benefited about 50 cents a hundredweight for milk." Cribbs, however, said the blend-price increase resulting from the order itself was about 20 cents in the first three months of its operation. He said other factors not connected with the order were responsible for additional increases. The order went into effect Aug. 1.

Janet Elaine Swart of Saugerties Wed to Paul Modjeska of Woodstock

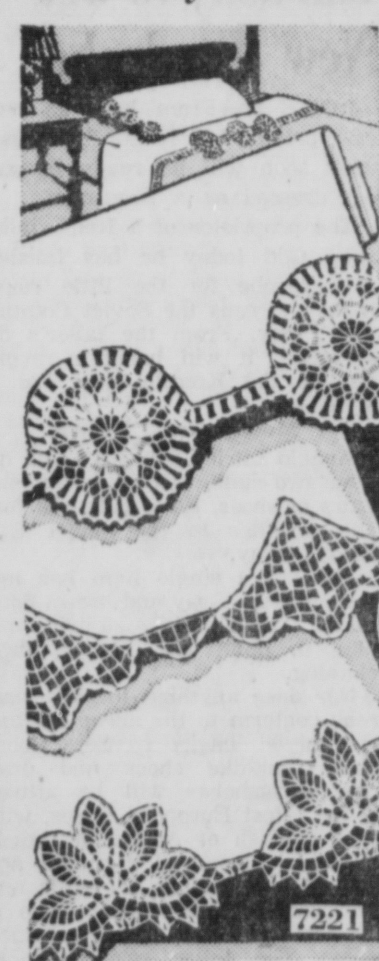

Wedding vows were exchanged between Janet Elaine Swart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Swart, RD 3, Box A-25, Saugerties and Paul Augustus Modjeska, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus P. Modjeska, West Hurley Road, Woodstock, Sunday, November 24 at 2 p. m. at the Reformed Church, Saugerties.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harold E. Pangburn. The organist was Mrs. Florence Wemple and the soloist, John McCullough, sang Perfect Love, Because and The Lord's Prayer.

Decorations included candles on the communion table and the church rail in front of the church and white mums. White satin bows were placed on the family pews.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Durwood Swart, wore a floor length lace gown posed over satin featuring a high oval shaped neckline trimmed with a lace edge embroidered with seed pearls, long pointed lace sleeves, fitted bodice, a very bou-

Benedictine Ladies Schedule Christmas Tea at Wiltwyck

The annual meeting and Christmas Tea of the Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 4, at 2:30 p. m. at the Wiltwyck Country Club. In the past, this event has taken place at the nurses' home, but since the number of persons attending in recent years has been ever increasing, it was found necessary to seek larger quarters to accommodate the guests more comfortably.

At this meeting, annual reports will be made and officers for the coming year will be elected.

Hostesses for the Christmas Tea will be Mrs. George Einterz and Mrs. John Cooke, Jr. They will be assisted by the Meses. Duffo Robertson, Bartholomew Duppe, Vincent Connelly, Vincent Amatrano, J. Edward Cortello, John Feltham, John Burch and Douglas Masterson.

All of the auxiliary members and their friends are invited to attend.

Personals

Lt. Commander Thomas Bohan, Mrs. Bohan and children, David, Michael, Barbara, Richard and Stephen, are spending the Thanksgiving holiday season with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bohan on River Road, Port Ewen. Lt. Commander Bohan is with the Bureau of Ordnance, Washington, D. C.

A girl, Sueann Ruth was born to Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Bryant of Wittenberg Road, Mt. Tremper Wednesday, Nov. 20 at Margaretville Hospital. Mrs. Bryant is the former Joan Brinks, of Mt. Tremper. Mr. Bryant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bryant of New Salem.

WEDDING PRESENT TO EMPLOYER'S DAUGHTER

Dear Mrs. Post: My employer's daughter is going to be married soon and I have been invited to the wedding reception. I have worked as his private secretary for the past year. Because of a previous engagement I will be unable to go to the wedding. I have met the daughter just once when she came to the office. The other two men who are employed here know the family quite well and will each send the bride a present. I would like to know what I should do under the circumstances. Shall I send the bride a gift, send her a check, or just what?

Answer: If you would like to buy a small gift you can, although it is not expected. Under no circumstances send a check.

Congratulations to Adoptive Parents

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine has just adopted a baby which is only a few days old. Would it be proper to send her a printed card of congratulation such as the ones sent to new parents on the birth of a baby?

Answer: If you can find one with suitable wording, such as "the arrival of the baby," instead of "the birth of the baby," it would be both proper to send and pleasing to receive.

A Sad Turn of Events

Dear Mrs. Post: Some time ago I was going to have a baby and the club to which I belong gave me a stock shower at which I received many lovely presents. Unfortunately I have had a miscarriage. Should I return the gifts?

Answer: The only thing to do is to give them back to the donors so that they can give them to someone more fortunate.

Responding to Toast

Dear Mrs. Post: As is customary in this company, I'm being given a dinner when I retire which will be soon. I'd like to know what is correct when the guests rise to drink a toast to me. Should I rise too, or remain seated?

Answer: You remain seated and rise at the end of the toast. Then you merely smile, bow briefly, say "thank you" and sit down.

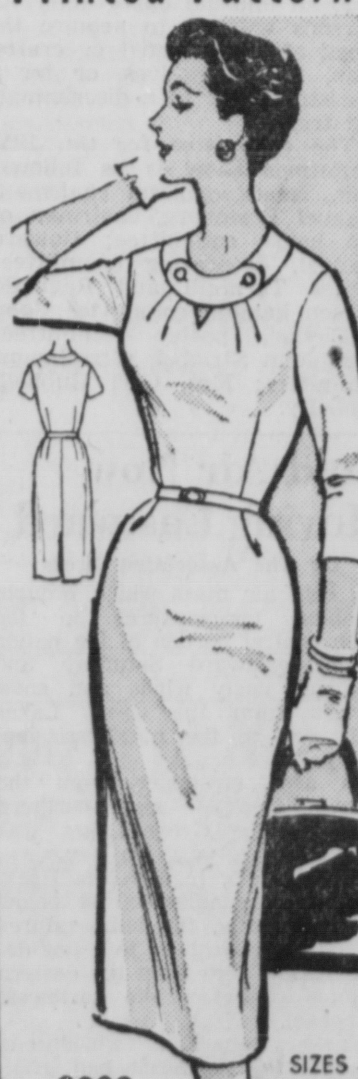

To help you plan a beautiful wedding, Mrs. Post has written booklet No. 501, "Etiquette of Weddings." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

New Paltz College To Honor Associate Sociology Professor

Dr. Charles Huntington, associate professor of sociology at the State University Teachers College at New Paltz, will be honored by the social science division of the college in celebration of his 25th year of teaching at the college.

One of Dr. Huntington's main fields of interest has been in the scientific study of criminal behavior, and the social science division thought it particularly appropriate to observe the 100th anniversary of Clarence Darrow's birth in connection with the observation of Dr. Huntington's 25 years of service.

The program will begin Dec. 3 at 3:30 with a discussion entitled "Capital Punishment," which will be in activities rooms 1 and 2 or the College Union Building. Those participating will be: Howard St. John, district attorney for Ulster County; the Rev. George Detor, minister of St. Andrews Episcopal Church in New Paltz; Dr. Howard Mosher, professor of education; and Dr. Louis R. Salveer, professor of economics.

Wednesday evening, December 4, Dr. H. A. Freeman, professor of law at Columbia University, will continue the program with an address entitled "Clarence Darrow and the Liberal Tradition."

Dr. Eugene P. Link, chairman of the social science division, said the meetings are open to the general public as well as to students and faculty of the college.

On the List for Christmas Giving

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor
NEW YORK — (NEA) — People with foresight do their Christmas shopping before Thanksgiving. Lazy people do their shopping on the afternoon of Dec. 24th, when the stores are nice and empty and one can browse around in peace.

Only trouble with the second plan is that everything that's any good has been bought. Also, one must carry every single thing home since, while the stores are willing enough to gift wrap and send, it's fairly obvious that the gifts will not arrive until Dec. 27th or thereafter.

Now, lingerie and robes always brighten the stores at this time of year. People like to give them and other people just love to get them.

Here, we show two Christmas gift possibilities that look delicate, frilly and feminine but actually are made of strong nylon. Both wash easily and neither needs ironing.

The duster (left) is lightweight quilted nylon tricot cut with full puff sleeves. There's a big scarf bow at the neckline. Gown-and-peignoir ensemble (right) in airy nylon tricot is trimmed with bands of embroidery. Peignoir has lantern-type sleeves. We show the ensemble in periwinkle blue.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Science and inventions are in the news every day, the following I found in an Argus of June 26th, 1889 in which Thomas A. Edison is interviewed by a reporter of the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

"You ask me about the future of electricity. It is the coming motive power. It will be used on all the railroads some day, but the point is to get an economical engine. My theory is to have immense dynamo located all along the line of the road, and have the electricity conveyed from these stationary engines to the locomotives by wires through the rails.

For example, I would put two big engines between New York and Philadelphia, and enough power could be furnished to whisk the limited at the rate of 100 miles an hour."

He further said: "But this is the point I have been working on for years: to convert heat directly into electricity without the intervention of boilers, steam, and all that. What an enormous amount of expense could be saved if this could be done. Think of putting something into the heat of that natural gas fire and make electricity out of it. It can be done. I feel it in my bones, and just now I have a suspicion that I am on the right track, but it is a pesky problem—one that can be worked out only in time."

"I have been experimenting with an electric road in New Jersey. I had rails laid as they put them down on railroads, but the machine would run off the track in going around the curves. I then raised the curve to an angle of 40 degrees and the motor went around all right. It looked as if the engine would topple over, but it didn't. You know in a centrifugal machine you can make a car go clear around a circle in the air without leaving the track."

Thomas A. Edison further said in the 1889 interview: "At the present time the phonograph is occupying my time. I have been improving it, and it is more perfect today than ever. In speaking into the phonograph it was soon found that the sibilants were not recorded.

"For instance, if I were to say 'species' the 'sp' sound would be lost. Well, I have about solved the problem now, and the sound of 's' is inscribed with the other letters. I run the phonograph or gramophone in three ways—with a treadle, a battery, or with the ordinary incandescent light by attaching the machine with a wire to the lamp.

He further explained: "Business people can have their choice. I shouldn't want to bother with a treadle, and I think the best plan is to use the electric light, since they are now so commonly distributed. The battery is made to last for a month, three months or even six months without being renewed. Let every man take his choice. I am making the three kinds."

Supposing Thomas Alva Edison (1847-1931) had lived to this day what his brilliant brain would have further invented for our comfort and pleasure. At the time of the above interview he was only 42 years old and see how far ahead he was predicting. He is known as the greatest practical inventor of all times. He had more than 1,900 patents, inventions, phonograph (1889), incandescent electric light bulb (1879), and many devices for telegraph, megaphone, metallurgy, electric battery, etc. His kinetoscope was the forerunner of motion pictures.

BRIDGE

Swindle Scores at Tournament

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

In the recent upper New York regional tournament in Schenectady every North and South pair reached the heart game and every West player opened the queen of spades.

South won with the ace and played the ace and king of trumps. When West showed out each South saw that he had to find a quick parking spot of his losing spade. The club finesse was tempting but it looked better to see what could be done in the diamond suit first. The king and ace of diamonds would be played and when East's queen fell on the second lead the jack of diamonds took care of the losing spade and declarer held his losses to two trumps and one Club.

When Charley Coleman of Corpus Christi, Tex., held the East hand he worked out a neat swindle that elicited the comment from the unfortunate declarer: "Couldn't you have stayed home?"

All Charley did was to drop his queen of diamonds on the first lead of the suit. Now declarer really had to abandon the diamond play. It appeared certain that Charley would ruff that second diamond and get in his spade trick. South could not let that happen and after all the club finesse might work. He led the nine of clubs and let it ride. Charley won with his king and was able to get in his king of spades to set the hand and bring him a top score.

Guild Favorite

NEW YORK (AP) — Novelist Peter DeVries is becoming the Theatre Guild's favorite author. Last season he converted his book "Tunnel of Love" into a still-running stage comedy for the guild. Now the production firm has acquired dramatic rights to DeVries' new novel "Mackerel Plaza," published early next year.

The New York State capital building was erected at a cost of $25 million.

TOGETHER, APART—Still close, but not as close as they were a couple of years back, Tjitske, left, and Folkje De Vries stroll hand in hand down a street in the village of Bergum, The Netherlands. The youngsters, photographed on their fourth birthday, were born Siamese twins. They were separated in 1954.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — "Those guys in the grey flannel suits—I just don't dig 'em."

This was Frank Sinatra's comment to reports that his TV show was "in trouble." There have been recurring items, that his sponsors and network are worried over the quality of Sinatra's Friday night show and the ratings it has drawn.

Concern was expressed over the fact that Sinatra has done several shows in a few days. A news story said ABC has asked the crooner to do more shows live instead of on film.

Frankie Remains Calm

Sinatra remains calm through it all.

"You'd think they'd give a show a chance to build," he said between scenes of "Kings Go Forth." "But no. The show wasn't on two weeks before the complaints started coming in."

"Do more live shows? I said I'd do one (last night's). But that's all. If they want an audience reaction, I'll film the shows before an audience, the same as 'I Love Lucy' does."

"But I'm not going to gimmick up the show. I loath those phony laugh tracks and canned applause. I'd rather quit than submit to them. My idea in planning the show was that it was a singing show. I don't think you need an audience for that."

He added that the speed with which he films the shows has nothing to do with their quality. "That's the way I work — fast. That's the way I'll continue to work."

Out to Correct Faults

Said Sinatra: "I realize there was something wrong with the show, and I'm going to correct it. It has nothing to do with an audience or with speed.

"It's the fact that I only have a piano on the stage with me. The technicians said they couldn't record the band on the same stage. That's bad for me. I need the spark that I get from singing with the full band. When the band was dubbed in on the sound track later, it just didn't sound right."

His deal with the nervous sponsors is for a year, and his multi-million-dollar contract with ABC extends three years. He indicated he's willing to cooperate with them—within reason.

List Essentials For Home Heating

What should a homeowner expect in the way of performance from modern home heating equipment?

The Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau offers the following guide-posts to help homeowners who may be planning to modernize or replace an old and ailing heating system with up-to-date equipment.

First of all, a well-designed central heating system should provide for uniform distribution of heat throughout the house. The equipment chosen should be capable of delivering heat in the exact amount required to offset normal heat loss from the body by radiation, convection, and evaporation, thus creating a stable indoor climate in which extremes of temperature—rooms too chilly one minute, too warm the next—are unknown.

Since virtually half of the normal heat loss from the body is in the form of direct radiation to colder objects in the room—particularly outside walls and windows—it is wise to select a type of heating system capable of balancing this loss with a steady output of radiant heat. Steam and hot water heating systems, the Bureau points out, are well adapted to this important requirement of modern home heating comfort, since the greater part of their output is in the form of radiant heat.

Another thing to look for is flexibility in boiler capacity, so that the system will neither overheat in mild weather, nor underheat in extremely cold weather. Boiler heat has the added advantage of being clean heat, distributed evenly without sudden blasts of convected warm air currents which leave a deposited dirt pattern on painted walls, window curtains and drapes.

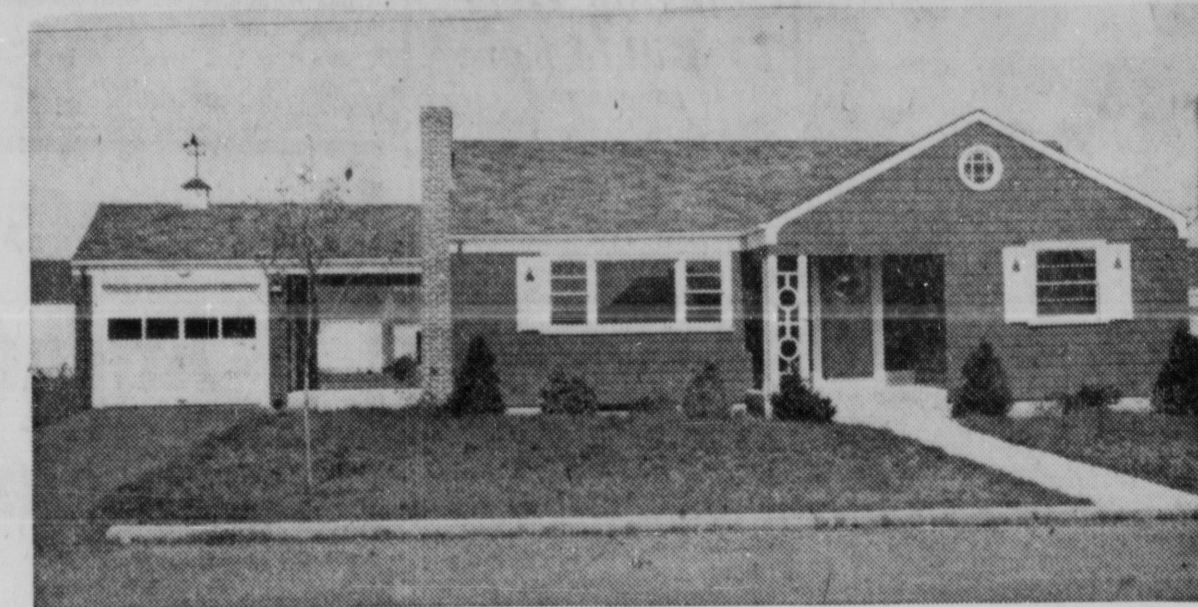

A well-designed automatic central heating system should last the life-time of a house, be economical and safe in operation, and require a minimum of maintenance and attention on the part of the homeowner.

Need Larger Homes

Population experts show families must have increasingly larger and better homes for comfortable living. For example, by 1965, the U. S. population will reach 180-million—an increase of 15 million in 10 years. The 15 million additional people will be in age groups that are home most of the day. This will necessitate larger, more comfortable homes, a greater number of bedrooms and recreation rooms, plus additional kitchen space.

Turning on Water

Before turning on the water to a portion of the water system that was drained for the winter, be sure that the drain cock on the valve is closed. If left open, you'll have water leaking out of the valve when the pressure is turned on. Also check to be sure that no pipe joints were taken apart and left that way when the system was drained.

The 'Bonnie,' An Attractive Ranch House

Rooms ..... Six
Bedrooms ..... Three
Closets ..... Eight
Cubage ..... 29,360
Dimensions .... 59' 1/2" by 32' 8"

The Home of the Week Plan Service today features the "Bonnie," an attractive ranch type home containing six rooms.

The house of exceedingly compact design will fit well with the newly-married couple intent on getting the most house for a moderate expenditure.

Its compact size will also allow construction on a comparatively small lot, a feature that will perhaps appeal to the few families who still think that half-acre and one acre lots are too much to take care of.

Window Styling

The 16 by 20-foot living room is entered directly from the front door. This room features a fireplace in the center of the room's exterior side wall. The guest closet is located at the rear of the room in the corner formed by the side wall and the wall closing off the stairs to the basement.

The choice of window style is dependent upon the tastes of the owner and either a bow type or picture window unit would be suitable.

The former style, however, can provide a bit more space while the illusion of space would be even greater than the amount actually provided.

Rear Dining Area

The dining area, measuring nine feet, six inches by 12 feet is at the rear of the house. It is entirely separate from the living room, but adjoins the kitchen.

Twin double-hung windows in this area would add to the attractive appearance of the room and the kitchen which opens from it.

The kitchen measures 12 feet long by 10 feet wide with the larger portion of its work area arranged along the rear wall. The range would best be located along the one side wall while the refrigerator could be located opposite the wall where the sink is located.

Light inexpensive non-bearing partition construction could serve to hide the side view of the refrigerator from the dining area.

Breezeway

The breezeway between the house and the garage is 15 1/2 feet long by eight feet wide with entrances from it into the garage and into the house.

The garage is 21 feet long by 12 feet wide. The rear portion of the garage is partitioned off to provide a storage area 12 feet wide by approximately four feet in depth.

The master bedroom is 12 feet by 11 feet and contains two double size closets. This room is located at the rear of the house.

Front Location

The other two bedrooms are at the front of the house. Each of these rooms is 12 feet long by nine feet wide. One of these rooms, however, contains two double size closets. The other one contains just one closet, but also a double unit.

A linen closet is located just inside the entrance to the bathroom.

The plans of the "Bonnie" are acceptable to the VA and FHA.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. Address requests, mentioning name of home, to Home of the Week, Inc., Dept. KF, 87 Weybosset street, Providence, R. I.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Howard C. Shurter, county director Veteran's Service Agency, and William Hartman, state veteran counselor NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and other dependents.

Pension—Veterans of World

War I, age 65 or over, who are disabled and unable to work may be able to get a VA non-service connected pension. Other war veterans also may be eligible to draw VA pensions if they are totally and permanently disabled or blind, regardless of their age. In order to qualify, a veteran normally needs to have at least 90 days active service, be considered permanently and totally disabled, be unemployed and have an annual income of less than $1400 without dependents and $2700 with dependents. The definition of total disability varies with age; at age 65 and over, for example, a veteran need only have a ten per cent disability to be considered totally disabled. The disability, moreover, does not need to be connected with military service. Additional information and the form to use to file for a pension is available locally. Any veteran who feels that he might qualify is urged to contact this office to have the details of the law and regulations explained to him, so that he may be better able to decide whether he is entitled to this benefit.

Deadlines—The deadline for both the World War II and Korean Conflict state veteran bonus for New Hampshire has been set as July 1, 1958 by the 1957 session of the New Hampshire General Court.

Air Force—Officers and enlisted men who are eligible for separation through normal or adjusted separation dates between December 1, 1957 and January 10, 1958 may request release at an earlier date under the Air Force Christmas holiday separation policy. Requests for leave under this policy may not be made before December 1, however. Not all Air Force personnel are eligible for this benefit. Medical personnel and those who are to be separated on an individual basis by the U. S. Air Force Headquarters or the Department of the Air Force are not included in the early Christmas release program.

Insurance—Lapsed National Service Life Insurance on a term plan may be reinstated within three months from the date of lapse without a physical examination. A policy may be reinstated in this manner provided the policyholder is in as good health as he was on the date that the policy lapsed. The policy holder must sign a statement to this effect and submit it to the VA insurance service. Forms are available for reinstating GI insurance. Anyone whose policy has lapsed, and who is still within three months from the date of lapse, is urged to contact this office immediately for aid in reinstating his insurance.

Medical—Veterans who served as six-month trainees may be entitled to VA hospitalization. To be eligible a "six-month trainee" must have been released from active duty under conditions other than dishonorable for a line-of-duty disability or be in receipt of VA compensation for a service-connected disability.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office at 32 Main Street, Kingston, N. Y.

Color Balance Is as Important As Choice of Hues

It isn't enough that colors go well together and are right for the room. Of course, there's more to good color scheming than that.

The proportioning of the color is important.

Don't do it by halves. The room in which areas of one color are equal to areas in another color is never the success it should be.

One color should always predominate in the room. Use twice or three times as much of it as of a second color, or more.

This color probably won't be the one that's most eye-catching, because it's usually best to use most of the softest color in a scheme, less of a stronger color, and brist, sparing flashes of the brightest color.

A small room such as a powder room or a closet can take much more brightness where it won't be looked at until it's tiresome, but it, too, is better for more of one color than another.

New Homes Feature 'Light Conditioning'

The number of new homes which feature "light-conditioning" is a reminder that buyers are demanding more than just basic appliances. They are beginning to look for homes in which planned lighting is included.

The newly developing field of engineered home lighting promises to be a major forward step in the industry, say leading lighting industry engineers. Builders and buyers are now becoming aware of the need for lighting standards that make a home attractive, comfortable and safe.

Enough Logs

Sawtimber (timber large enough for saw logs used in lumber manufacturing) amounts to 73 per cent of the nation's total timber supply. There is enough sawtimber in our forests now to build a six-room house for every man, woman and child in the country—more than 167 million houses with a good deal left over. Annual sawtimber growth has increased 68 per cent since 1945.

More Space

Create extra family recreation space by finishing an attic or basement room. Make it a permanent improvement by surfacing with ceramic tile areas that must survive wear and tear yet contribute to decoration of the room.

Hammer Faces Vary

Maybe you never noticed but some hammers have plain faces while others have bell faces which are slightly rounded. It's a little more difficult to drive a nail straight with a bell face hammer but because the face is rounded, you can actually drive a nail head slightly below the wood surface.

Pole-Frame Buildings Becoming Popular

Pole-frame construction, a building method popular with pioneer settlers, is gaining wide acceptance again for a variety of commercial, industrial and farm buildings.

Construction involves only the sinking of long wood poles into the ground. Then, the building's walls and roof are fastened directly to these poles.

Architects have revived the pole-frame technique for utility buildings, warehouses, garages, bulk storage bins, equipment sheds, boat houses and even factories. To increase the life of such buildings, poles should be preservative-treated.

Three-Points Set Home Sales Price

Kitchen, bathrooms and basement are the three most important areas which affect the selling price of a house, in the opinion of bankers and other lending officials.

These men who decide on how large a loan they can safely make on a house, say that in most cases the woman buys the house. Her husband may sign the check, but generally she has the final word. So to bring the best price, a house must have a spacious and modern kitchen, ample and up-to-date bathing facilities, and a basement large enough to accommodate storage, workshop and possibly a recreation room.

For More Comfort

It's often possible to improve the efficiency of an old forced warm air heating system by replacing the registers with a type that will direct the heat up and over the surface of the outside walls of the room.

A sergeant was trying to drill a lot of raw recruits, and after working hard for three hours he thought they seemed to be getting into some sort of shape, so decided to test them.

Sergeant—Right turn! Then, before they had ceased to move, came another order, Sergeant—Left turn!

One hoodlum left the ranks and started off toward the barracks.

Angry Sergeant—Here, you! Where are you going?

An enterprising salesman decided to bypass the merchandising manager, and go directly to the store president. When asked, "What are you trying to sell?" the salesman replied, "I'm not here to sell you. My boss asked for a survey of the city and find out whether there was a store good enough to handle his product."

The result was a personally conducted tour of the store and an impressive order.

Armstrong, Engle, Shaub, Peck, Spadafora Picked All-DUSO

Kingston Lands 10 Gridders on First Two Teams

Five Kingston High players—Marv Engle, Marv Shaub, Hobie Armstrong, Ray Spadafora and John Peck—were selected yesterday for the 1957 All-DUSO League football first team by a vote of the DUSO Sportswriters Association at the Hotel Newburgh.

Engle, Shaub and Armstrong were unanimous choices made the first team for the second straight year. Spadafora and Peck, both tackles, received 8 and 6 votes, respectively from the 10-man selection group.

Shaub was chosen for a guard spot, and Engle for end. Armstrong was picked in the backfield.

Kingston dominated the balloting, placing 10 of its starters on either the first or second team. Two reserves received honorable mention recognition.

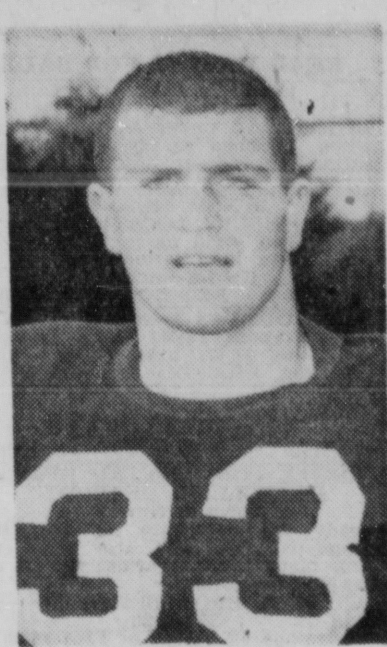

Local players who landed on the second team were Bob Strong, end; Mike Wood, tackle; Frank Sammons, center and backs Jerry McDonough and Tony Uhl. Backs Bob Beadle and John Parete gained honorable mention.

McDonough and Strong came within a whisker of making the first team. Russ Devore of Port Jervis won out over McDonough on the third ballot, 7 to 3. The deciding thing that finally snapped the snarl was the fact that Devore was more experienced and a senior while McDonough is a junior and has just one year of varsity ball under his belt.

Strong Eked Out
Strong was eked out by Dick DePew of Poughkeepsie also on a third ballot. The margin was the same as what McDonough lost by.

Deke Johnson, Poughkeepsie's high-powered back, was the only other unanimous selection. Don Kirkland, of Newburgh, rounds out the backfield.

The rest of the first team line includes two Port Jervis boys, guard Joe Curtis and center Bob Vecchio. Curtis won a close battle from Nick Fanatico of Poughkeepsie who was All-Duso last year. Vecchio defeated Sammons who was the only other pivot put in nomination.

The first team lists seven seniors and four juniors. The juniors are Armstrong, Peck, Spadafora and DePew.

The team is a solid one with good all-around balance. It could stand alone and operate very smoothly as a unit.

The backfield is especially potent with Armstrong and Johnson at fullback, Devore is a capable signal-caller.

Shaub and Vecchio, both at 205, are the heaviest men in the line. The forward wall averages about 182 pounds.

Taking part in the voting were sportswriters from Newburgh, Kingston, Port Jervis, Poughkeepsie and Middletown.

Vaughn Wins Nod Over Jones

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Vaughn and Ralph (Tiger) Jones, usually the hard luck guys of the middle-weight division, each had something to be happy about today after their hard fought scrap in Madison Square Garden.

Willie finally had a Garden decision—and a unanimous one at that—to his credit and a promise of another International Boxing Club main event soon. The Tiger keeps his date with contender Joey Giardello for Miami Beach, Dec. 27.

Vaughn, of Los Angeles, staged a rousing rally before 2,000 fans in the last half of the telecast. Garden fight last night to earn the nod from the three officials. The

Dairymen Face Newburgh Five In Pivotal Tilt

Jones Dairy, trailing Newburgh Chaires Men's Shop by two games in the Hudson Valley league bowling standings, meets headon with the leaders tonight at the Bowlerama at 8 o'clock.

In other matches involving Kingston teams for the loop's third "position night," Prospect Dairies hosts Channel Master; Liberty Triangle Dinner visits The Five Merchants and Walden Merchants travel to Saccoman Jewelers.

Jerry Oster of Kingston is high average kegler with a 205.23 mark for 36 games. Runnerup Phil Versace of Poughkeepsie boasts 199.19 for the same number of sets.

Giants to Meet 49ers Sunday

The world champion football Giants meet the San Francisco 49ers Sunday at 2:05 p. m. at Yankee Stadium.

A crowd of more than 50,000 is expected, with good weather. The Giants will place more than 25,000 reserved, box and bleacher seats on sale at 11 a. m.

The game will not be televised in the New York area. It will be broadcast over WINS.

Engle Named 'Player of Year'

Marv Engle, Kingston High's brilliant end, was voted football 'Player of the Year' for 1957 in the DUSO League yesterday by the DUSO Sportswriters Association.

Engle received seven of 10 votes in defeating Eugene (Deke) Johnson, Poughkeepsie's great halfback. They were the only two players nominated.

The award is restricted to seniors.

Engle has been hailed as one of the greatest linemen ever developed at Kingston. He's a tremendous two-way performer and has made the All-DUSO team two years running.

17 Years Old

A 17-year-old, Engle stands 6-2 and weighs 185 pounds.

Engle, who has been described by Coach Bill Burke as already a college end, snared five touchdowns passes this season. His defensive feats were one of the main reasons the Maroon allowed just little more than one TD a game.

An 85-plus average student, Engle has received numerous scholarship bids from colleges.

Engle's selection marks the second straight year a Kingston player has gained the honor. Last season, center Pete Blanschman was named for the award.

Burke Named Coach of Year

Willard A. Burke, who two days ago finished guiding Kingston High to its second successive perfect football season, was selected unanimously as 'Coach of the Year' in the DUSO League by a vote of the DUSO Sportswriters Association.

Burke was such an overwhelming choice that no other coach's name was placed in nomination. It marks the first time Burke has received the honor. Last year he lost out to Stan Hemingway of Newburgh by a narrow 5-4 margin and on several other occasions came very close to winning.

Most Successful
Burke is the most successful coach in the Hudson Valley.

Since moving over to Kingston from Highland in 1946, his teams have won 68 games, lost just 18 and tied 6 for a glittering .791 winning percentage.

Under his direction, Kingston has won five DUSO titles outright and shared in two others. He is currently on a 16-game all-winning streak which spans a three-year period.

Burke started his coaching

career at Fonda after graduating from Springfield College. He then took over the reins at Highland where he made a name for himself with a string of powerhouse teams.

Another Honor

Armstrong Annexes DUSO Scoring Crown

Hobie Armstrong has added the DUSO League scoring championship to his rapidly growing list of gridiron accomplishments.

The brilliant Kingston High halfback won the title hands down, according to unofficial figures. The 16-year-old phenom amassed a scoring total of 66 points, more than double the output of his nearest rival, Poughkeepsie's Deke Johnson.

Hobie's last two touchdowns of the season against Newburgh Thanksgiving Day boosted his final total to 10 in the circuit. He also kicked one extra point in the traditional clash to finish with a final total of 66 points.

Johnson Scores 32
Johnson, the Pioneers' tremendous triple-threat, scored five TDs and was credited with two PATs for 32.

Gordon Fox, Newburgh halfback, was third with 30 points, all on touchdowns. He crossed the goal line in every one of NFA's league games.

Strong Fourth

Bob Strong, Kingston end, came out of nowhere to snare fourth place honors. Going into the NFA clash, Strong had only one TD to his credit but he nabbed three scoring aeriels to finish fourth with 24 points.

Kingston's Tony Uhl, Don Kirkland of Newburgh and Dick Theodore of Port Jervis tied for next spot with 3 TDs and 18 points. Bob Beadle of KHS scored 12 points on two touchdowns.

Late Rally Foiled

Hudson High Staves Off Sawyers for 79-75 Win

Hudson High staved off a last ditch rally by Saugerties High last night to gain a closely contested 79-75 basketball victory at Hudson.

The Sawyers put up a game battle and crept within one point of tying in the last minute with a 6-point spree but the home-sters flipped in a field goal and then a free toss in the waning moments to sew it up.

Hudson led throughout in the ding-dong affair. Saugerties was never more than six points in the rear.

The first quarter found Hudson on top, 21-19, but Saugerties cut into the lead at halftime, 35-34. The three-quarter margin ballooned to 57-48.

Pair Excel

Jack Naccarato and Eddie Rizzozi excelled for Coach Bud Smith's quintet. The former tossed in 22 points and Rizzozi 22 and both played bang-up ball off the boards.

Barry Wolven added 13 and Don Mornile 10 for the Sawyers. Tom Van Ess, a gigantic 240-pound forward, led everyone with 26 and was a tiger on the boards. Bill Clark contributed 19 and Joe Ryder 15.

Hudson also took the Jayvee game, 56-30. John Snyder canned 8 for Saugerties' top effort.

The Sawyers, who are 1-1, play Catskill Dec. 14 on the road in their next start. They were originally slated to meet Highland next Friday but the game has been postponed until sometime in January.

Late Going

COLUMBUS, O. — (NEA) — Ohio racing officials decided to postpone the spring opening to May 1 and operate through November.

Pine Plains Wins Opener

Phil Spencer dropped in two free throws after the game was over to give the Pine Plains Bombariders a come-from-behind, 75-73, victory over Stewart Field last night as the newly formed Hudson Valley Basketball League opened.

Ted Dwyer, last year's Columbia University captain, tied up the game at 73-all with a basket in the final seconds after the Airmen had gone ahead with a pair of foul throws with 30 seconds to go.

Stewart Field led through each quarter by scores of 23-11, 46-31 and 60-56.

Dwyer canned 25 points to beat everyone. McNutt topped the Airmen with 18.

The next game is Thursday when Stewart Field visits Fishkill.

Final Meeting Set for Y Loop

The wrap up meeting for the Kingston YMCA Winter Basketball League is scheduled for tonight at 7 o'clock at the Y, according to physical director Dick Case.

All managers are urged to be present to iron out last minute details.

The loop will play a conference time schedule. Two divisions—National and American—will be included.

Tonight the league will seed the first two teams for each division. Then the next 10 will draw for divisional spots.

First Round Slate

In the first round, teams in the same division will face each other. The second round matches clubs from both divisions. And in the third round, the No. 1 and 2 finishers in each division held a Shaughnessy playoff. Meanwhile, the other 10 teams engage in a single elimination tourney.

Action opens Tuesday night with a tripleheader. Trophies will be awarded at the end of the campaign and a banquet is also slated.

The Class A tournament is the Autumn loop will be on the line tonight when Harry's Angles face Wimpy's No. 1 at 7:30. The teams ended the year in a flat-footed tie for first place with 7-2 records.

Brown and Lane In Verbal Battle

CHICAGO (AP) — The lightweight championship fight between champion Joe Brown and challenger Joey Lopez is set for Wednesday night but right now the battle of words is hottest between Brown and No. 1 challenger, Kenny Lane.

Brown, taking a physical yesterday for his 15-round clash at Chicago stadium, said he thought Lopez would give him a tougher fight than Lane and if he gets by Lopez he'd like to meet Ralph Dupas of New Orleans.

That's all Lane had to hear. The lefthander from Muskegon, Mich., presently training in San Francisco for a Dec. 9 date against Luke

HONORABLE MENTION

Backs—Bob Beadle, John Parete, Kingston; Roger Gamo, Dick Theodore, Port Jervis. Linemen—Marty Ammen, Middletown; Bill Adams, Louis Rizzuto, Newburgh; Bob Doss, Port Jervis; Otto Klassen, Poughkeepsie.

It was less than 15 minutes after Cliff Miller had passed to Terry Corkery for the final play in the traditional Kingston-Newburgh football game.

Dietz Stadium was empty, more than 5000 fans having marched out of the enclosure with varying emotions, as Kingston High had just racked up a tremendous football victory. The stadium, jumping and lively only minutes before, was shrouded in the cold, gray mantle of autumn.

Three figures were outlined against the backdrop of the grandstand—a couple of sportswriters and Coach G. Warren Kias, who having taken a most recent audit of the boxoffice figures, was smiling this wide. "It was over 5,000, don't you think?" he inquired of the writers, who nodded in assent.

The most important thing about Thursday's game, however, was not the size of the boxoffice, but the splendid manner in which it was played and the beautiful style in which the police handled the terrific crowd. Unlike other years, the contest was devoid of incidents and the myriad scraps that break out among young ruffians who are more intent on seeing blood than touchdowns.

One mild skirmish broke out and the police stifled it in less than a minute. That was the difference between Thursday and yesterday, when fist fights were apt to pop up all over the area. The bluecoats did a terrific job and are to be congratulated. A tip of the hat, too, to Coach Kias who supervised the whole production. All the facets of Thursday's game added up to just what a high school football game should be. Everyone concerned with its promotion should feel proud of his part.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

We heard some complaints about the delays at the ticket booths and traffic congestion at the entrances to the stadium, but with the terrain such as it is, it can't be avoided on big days. A solution to the ticket dilemma in the future might be the setting up of a ticket office somewhere in town for the Newburgh game. . . . Most folks, in a festive holiday mood, appeared to take the whole affair in good stride. . . .

Of Men and Mice:

Nobody begrudged Newburgh its two fast touchdowns in the third period. It was 33-7 at that stage and beginning to get dreary. The two TDs added lustre to what could have been a dismal afternoon for the Goldbacks. . . . Historians been racing for the record books to determine if any Burke-coached football team had ever scored three touchdowns on passes in one game. There was no record of it ever having happened before. . . . The crowd was treated to some historic firsts—first pass caught by Hobie Armstrong, first pass ever thrown by the mercury footed junior. . . . Don Kirkland's running had "Bo" Gill singing his praises. . . . Don was NFA's lone hope for an All-DUSO berth. . . . His running for three explosive plays ranked with the finest ever seen in Dietz Stadium by this observer. . . . We've been watching KHS football games for 31 years and looking around Thursday, it seemed to us that we saw faces that were there that many years ago.

Of Moments and Heroes:

The Kingston victory reassured Coach Bill Burke's overwhelming mastery of Newburgh in "The Game." . . . There were times during the season when Marv Engle behaved like a college end. We shall watch with interest his progress at North Carolina State. . . . Marv Shaub's dad went to Cornell, but the Moose is headed for Harvard where he can't miss. . . . A year from now Hobie Armstrong will be making his choice of college. . . . Bob Strong's performance, proves that the stress of combat spurs heroes in the most unlikely quarters. Here is a lad who had never played football and went out for the team as a sort of hardening process for basketball where he figures to star. He made some eye-popping catches and passes thrown by Jerry McDonough and put on one of the finest one-man shows in the series history. That memorable day on the football field might give Bob the psychological boost to carry over into basketball. . . . To one who looked in the dreary early years of the KHS-NFA football rivalry, these Thanksgiving Day games are getting to be a pleasant habit.

Louisville Picked For Sun Bowl

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The University of Louisville was picked last night to play Drake in the Sun Bowl football game at El Paso, Tex., New Years Day. Drake accepted the invitation last week.

Both teams lost only one game this fall. The Des Moines, Iowa school posted a 7-1 record, its only loss a 14-7 defeat by Wichita. Louisville, with an 8-1 mark, lost to Kent State.

Easter, and told of Brown's statements, said of Brown: "All blow and no go." Brown retorted "I'll fight Lane anytime they want me to—before or after the main event."

The Weather

SATURDAY, NOV. 30, 1957
Sun rises at 7:03 a. m.; sun sets at 4:26 p. m., EST.
Weather: Cloudy
The lowest temperature recorded on the Kingston thermometer during the night was 34 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 42 degrees.

Weather Forecast

Southeastern New York — Increasing cloudiness followed by a few showers today. High 45-52. Becoming windy with considerable cloudiness and showers ending to night, low 25-30. Sunday partial clearing with slowly diminishing winds and colder. High in 30s. Winds variable under 15 today, becoming west to northwest 15-30 to night and Sunday.

Beacon Man Is Dutchess 31st Auto Fatality

A 30-year-old Beacon man was pronounced dead at the scene early this morning after his car went out of control on Route 52 about a mile east of Beacon and turned over.

Charles J. Veneziale, Dutchess County's 31st traffic fatality of 1957, was pronounced dead by a Dutchess County Medical Examiner, Dr. Chester Golding, issued a tentative verdict of accidental death due to a compound fracture of the skull and a lacerated brain. Fishkill State police said Veneziale, traveling alone, was proceeding west on Route 52 about 2:50 a. m. when his car failed to negotiate a sharp left curve, went off the road, striking several guard rails, veered back across the highway and turned over on its roof.

The body was removed to Auchmoody Funeral Home, Fishkill.

Adams Is Key

This connection, they cited the signing of legislation, the veto power and the granting of clemency.

There appears to be general agreement that, in view of the absence of any statute on the subject, no President can delegate the office itself to another person. Chairman Celler (D-NY) of the House Judiciary committee said in Rome yesterday that he intends to propose legislation to set up a commission to determine when a President becomes incapacitated and replaceable by the vice president.

In the present situation, Nixon had spent considerable time at the White House since Eisenhower was stricken Monday. He has said he expects Eisenhower to return to full-time activity soon. In the meantime, Nixon has said he is not assuming any presidential duties.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, usually is on hand at any inner council meetings during Eisenhower's illness. At the operational level, as distinguished from the policy level, there has been no discernible difference at the White House since Eisenhower became ill.

Biggest Twins

ADA, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. James Lamb gave birth to the heaviest set of twins ever born here. They totaled 17 pounds, 6 ounces.

Free Show

CINCINNATI (AP) — How about a home with a drive-in motion picture theatre thrown in. Home owners in one block of the Oakley section of Cincinnati have one just off their back yards. They complained when the drive-in theatre opened just behind them. Their complaints turned to joy, however, when the theatre operators provided each home with a sound box so they could hear the show as well as see it from back porch or yard.

'NO RADAR TO DETECT MISSILES AND NO DEFENSE AGAINST THEM'

Is the vast radar warning network spanning Canada and the United States obsolete as of now? If the Russians have an operational Intercontinental Ballistic Missile it may be, according to Gen. Earle E. Partridge, U.S.A.F., Commander-in-Chief of North American Defense. Says he: "If the aggressor's weapon is the ICBM, the continent stands today almost as naked as it did in 1946, for I have no radar to detect missiles and no defense against them." This means that the warning system must be re-equipped with new long-range missile-detecting radar and interception devices. Such a 3,000-mile, anti-missile radar-detection system has been developed but many months of testing must pass before it can be installed in the trans-Canada warning "fences."

Map shows the "DEW" line, Mid-Canada Line and Pine Tree Line, the three principal radar fences spanning Canada. Built over a period of nine years at a cost of more than 18 billion dollars, they were designed to provide early warning of Soviet bombers. They cannot detect ballistic missiles.

Gen. Earle E. Partridge, U.S.A.F., who heads our continental defense warning system, sees no present defense against trans-Arctic missiles.

Congers Youth Is Hurt Painfully Hunting Deer

A 16-year-old boy from Congers, Rockland County, suffered a painful wound of the right foot late Friday morning when his rifle accidentally discharged as he was deer hunting on Morgan Hill about half a mile from Ohler's Lodge.

Edward Rowland Connor was sitting on a log when he saw a buck approaching, according to a report in the Ulster County sheriff's office.

He stood up and looked at his watch, Deputy Sheriff Benjamin Newkirk said, the rifle, which was pointed at the ground, accidentally discharged. The bullet struck the third toe on his right foot. The rifle was described as a 45-70.

Two companions, David Condon and Fred Bramer, both of Ohler's Mountain House, were with Connor at the time of the mishap.

They brought him from the woods to the mountain lodge. Edward L. Connor, the youth's father, took him to the Kingston Hospital for treatment.

Newkirk told The Freeman that no bones were broken in Connor's foot.

The Connors, who reside on King's Highway, Congers, had come to the lodge to hunt deer.

How's That Again?

COLUMBUS, Neb. (AP)—When operating manager Howard Erickson of the Nebraska Public Power System learned that a piece of electric transmission line was lying across a railroad track he promptly reported to the railroad in correct power terminology:

"There's a conductor lying across your tracks."

The railroad people, who have a different meaning for the term conductor, were considerably more concerned about the report.

Critical Time

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — R. A. Reinhardt, manager of television station CPPL-TV, told a listener who asked why a weekly anti-alcoholism program was scheduled for late Sunday night that that is the time when alcoholics need help the most.

Hot Tip on Cool Item

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Police arrested a man here on charges of possessing stolen property. The man contended he bought the property, an electric refrigerator, Police testified his house wasn't wired for electricity.

Rhinebeck Studies Purchase of Lakes For Water Source

The Village of Rhinebeck, plagued this summer by water shortage, has under consideration the purchase of some 30 acres of land, including two large lakes, on the Miller Estate near the village.

The village, which is supplied by a large tank reservoir and wells, has been seeking other sources of supply.

3 Miles From Village

The lakes are located on the estate of the late Dr. George N. Miller, well known Dutchess County doctor and public benefactor. They are about three miles from the village.

The land was offered to the village board at its regular meeting Wednesday night by John B. Kane, a Rhinebeck realtor, on behalf of Malcolm Smith, a son-in-law of Dr. Miller, and Dr. Miller's two daughters. Kane said his clients were asking the board to fix "a fair and reasonable price."

Mayor William Pollard told The Freeman that in order to utilize the lakes the water would have to be filtered and pumped to the village tank. Pipes would have to be laid and a filter system (cost: approximately $15,000) installed.

He said that engineers employed by the village would make a survey and advise the board.

Is Director

from 1938 to 1939. Presently he is serving as a director of the Kingston Milk Council, New York State Milk Distributors, Upstate Milk Dealers Steering Committee, Dairy Council of the Mid-Hudson Area and the Kingston YMCA. He served as a president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, is vice-president of the Kingston Kiwanis and is president-elect for 1958.

Among the civic activities he has served as Initial Gifts chairman for the Kingston Community Chest, chairman of the 1954 YMCA financial drive and is past-president of the M.J.M. Parent-Teachers Association.

Dairy Head Since '46

From 1940 to 1941 he was assistant to the office manager of the P. Ballantine & Sons and from 1941 to 1945 he was with the accounting department of Chance Vought Aircraft Division of United Aircraft. From 1945 to 1946 he was office manager of the Babcock Dairy and in 1946 became manager of the dairy, a position he still holds.

He also served as president of the Saugerties Dairy, Inc., from 1955, an office which he still holds.

4 Persons Hurt In Two Mishaps

Four persons were injured in two traffic accidents in the city early today, local police reported.

A report at 8:25 a. m. said a 1955 sedan, owned and operated by Vincent Lovern, 36, of 328 East 59th Street, New York City, was in collision with a 1951 panel truck, owned by the Parker Trucking Corp., of Rosedale, and operated by Frank Mayone, 27, of Box 161, Glasco, at Foxhall and Flatbush Avenues.

Sgt. William Hanley and Officers Thomas McGrane, James Amato, Guernsey Burger Sr. and William Whalen reported the Lovern vehicle was headed north on Flatbush Avenue.

Truck Overturns

The officers said the truck, operated by Mayone, was headed west on Foxhall Avenue, and due to the impact of the collision overturned on its side.

Police listed the injured as: Vincent Provenzano, 28, of Box 28, Port Ewen, a passenger in the panel truck, who suffered an injured left arm and was taken to Kingston Hospital by Schultz ambulance; Joseph Facchionti, 48, of 2044 Second Avenue, New York City, injured left arm and shoulder, treated at the hospital, and Angelo Molozzo, 239 East 118th Street, New York City, also treated at the hospital. His injuries were not listed.

Facchionti and Molozzo were passengers in the Lovern car, police said.

Police reported the Lovern vehicle was damaged on the front end, and the panel truck on the left and right side and back doors. It was towed from the scene.

A report at 12:03 a. m. said a 1954 sedan, owned and operated by Francis C. Diamond, 20, of 21 Hannatty Street, headed north on Broadway, was in collision with a 1955 sedan, owned by Edward J. Ward, 23, of 97 Clinton Avenue, and operated by Mrs. Palma Ward, 23, same address, at Broadway and Dederick Street.

Struck In Rear

Police said the Ward vehicle was traveling north and turning off Broadway when it was struck in the rear by the Diamond car. The report said Ward was injured about the head and his glasses were broken. He was treated at Kingston Hospital.

The Diamond car was damaged on the entire front end and towed away, police reported, while the Ward vehicle was damaged on the rear end light and front seat.

Tough Old Days

KITCHENER, Ont. (AP)—Sgts. Herbert Gimbel and Cecil Farnham, both completing 31 years on the Kitchener police force, say modern policemen "never had it so good." In their early days the pair pointed a beat for 11 hours at a stretch, with one day off each month.

Giant long-range radar antenna like this must be installed, at great expense in time and money, throughout the trans-Canada warning system if Russian ICBM's are to be detected. This radar is at the Lincoln Laboratory of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Westford, Mass.

Fire Department Should Receive Soot Complaints

Noting that he had received 24 complaints about soot in the last 10 days, Alderman Frank Sass is advising Seventh Ward residents to also call the Fire Department whenever it settles on their properties.

This is so the complaints will be on record, he says, with the proper authority charged with enforcement of an ordinance regulating the emission of dense smoke and air pollution in the city.

Alderman Sass said three of the property owners had registered their complaints with the department, but the others had not. He learned this when he checked with the fire chief.

Sass quoted the ordinance as follows:

Section 1. Supervision and enforcement. The Fire Department of the City of Kingston is hereby charged with the duty of investigating, preventing and abating air pollution and the emission of dense smoke within the city and enforcing the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 3. Prohibition of emission of dense smoke within the city is prohibited, and it is hereby declared to be a nuisance and may be abated by the Fire Department of the City of Kingston in the manner provided by law.

Alderman Sass, who lives at 23 Ridge Street, made it clear that he too desires knowing about any soot settling on properties.

"But," he stressed, "in case of a legal procedure against violators, the Fire Department record would be considered the official data on which to act."

In 1791, Vermont was the first state admitted to the Union after the original thirteen colonies.
